TRAINING ANNOUNCEMENT

COURSE TITLE: Planning and Intervention for Gangs, Hate and Terrorist Groups in Jails and Prisons (MGT-401)

DATE: February 22, 2012

LOCATION: Campbell County Fire Training Center
10 Training Center Drive
Highland Heights, KY

TIME: 8:00 AM - 5:00 PM

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This eight hour, management-level instructor-led course focuses on correctional facilities as unique environments for threat group recruitment and radicalization. The course examines the processes by which recruitment and radicalization occur and purposes methods for strengthening the information gathering and sharing process. Two case studies and a tabletop exercise embedded in the course are designed to emphasize to students the urgency of the threat group recruitment in jails and prisons, to illustrate the mechanisms by which recruitment and radicalization occur, and to explore the various roles of various agencies in gathering and sharing operational information. Unlike other courses that focus entirely on threat group identifiers as means of preparing corrections personnel for intervention, this course builds knowledge around threat group categories, identifiers and philosophies, and then focus in convergence of methodologies and the practices, polices, and conditions specific to correctional facilities. Additionally, this course relays the elements of deterrence, intervention and information gathering and sharing as they pertain to the task parameters of corrections personnel.

PARTICIPANT CRITERIA:

The primary audience for this course is governmental administrative, law enforcement, public safety, and corrections officials.

PERQUISITE:
